

P. N. PRACTICAL SIDE CORSETS

Some of Their Good Points

The extra side-pieces make the breaking of the Corset impossible. These side-pieces can be removed from the pockets wherever they are set and reversed from time to time, insuring permanent shapeliness to the Corset and adding to its lease of service. If a lady wishes ease in reclining the side-pieces may be removed and replaced at pleasure. The cork steel protectors, used in all P. N. Corsets, will keep the front steel from breaking and rusting. We recommend the Practical Side Corsets for stout people. Price $1.00 per pair. No. 743, a new model for the average figure, $1.00 per pair.

The Williamstown correspondent of the Vermont Watchman says in the current issue: Last week, for the first time in our experience, so far as we can recall, we saw the "action hands" making a liberal use of salt about the tracks at the railway station. At first thought, one familiar with the habits of the slow and reluctant trains that come up here from Barre, might imagine that this salt was being used to coax these trains to come the faster and more willing—as it so often succeeds in coaxing dumb animals to the halter and the house, and sometimes "in the run". But a second thought would probably be nearer right!

The Spaulding Athletic association held a small dance in the Worthen hall couples present. Dr. Worthen very kindly gave the Athletic association the use of the hall, in which a new hardwood floor has just been laid, and for the number present it was an ideal place for a dance. An orchestra from the high school, consisting of John Carroll, John McGowan and James Riley, with Ivan Perry as clarinetist, furnished excellent music, free gratis to the association. Owing to this generosity on the part of Dr. Worthen and the orchestra, a nice little sum will be cleared for the benefit of the baseball team.
